Subject: Conservation Funding Information Network (CFIN)

Dear conservancy friends –

The Planning and Conservation League Foundation is pleased to offer a new subscription service, Conservation Funding Information Network (CFIN), that will provide weekly written updates on current and emerging issues related to conservation funding. We will also hold regular phone briefings to talk about existing and future funding sources for conservation programs. Our goal is to make information available in a way that will be useful to organizations for both short and long-term planning. This service has been created for informational purposes only; no advocacy will take place.

This service is being offered for an annual fee of $4,800, please contact me if you are interested in subscribing.

Thank you for your consideration,

br
